BERLIN BELIEVED STEPPING UP TEMPO OF AIR AND NAVAL WARFARE FOR "TOTAL" OFFENSE

By The Associated Press
Prime Minister Winston Churchill tacitly affirmed Britain's "final answer" to Adolf Hitler today—a fight to the finish against Nazi conquest.
By avoiding comment during the question period in the House of Commons, Churchill indicated that the empire's last word in reply to Hitler's appeal for a Nazi-controlled peace had been spoken yesterday by foreign Secretary Lord Halifax.
Authoritative quarters in Berlin had previously said Hitler would not allow the "zero hour" for Britain's destruction until after Halifax and Churchill had spoken.
Churchill then ended all talk of peace, German planes having fired bombs on British cities in widespread attacks and Nazis in Berlin declared "the dice are cast" for a blitzkrieg against Britain.
The staggering cost of the war to Britain was high-lighted when the Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Kingsley Wood announced a one shilling increase in the British income tax to eight shillings six pence per pound—a basic tax of 42½ per cent.
Sir Kingsley presented an emergency war budget to meet expenditures of about $35,600,000 a day.
Hitler's high command said Nazi warplanes bombed the cities of Edinburgh—capital of Scotland and ancient seat of Scottish kings—Glasgow, Chatham and Sheerness, and attacked airdromes near Portsmouth and Bristol Channel.
The Berlin radio, anticipating Prime Minister Churchill's reply to Hitler's Reichstag speech, today declared:
"The view now prevailing in Berlin is that by the speech of (Foreign Secretary) Lord Halifax, as well as by the fact that recent British bombing attacks on non-military objectives in Germany have been increasing by leaps and bounds, Churchill has made his reply in his own way."
With German raiders dropping bombs across the channel throughout the night, dropping bombs on shipping and countryside, British fighters were described as "continually racing out to sea" to drive them back.
A dozen German bombers were seen over Wales at one time—the biggest sky attack there since the war started—but they fled, dropping many of their bombs in open fields, in the face of hot anti-aircraft fire.

VETERAN DEPUTY IN CHARGE OF MINES

Harrisburg, July 23.—(P)—Joseph J. Walsh, veteran deputy secretary, is acting head of the Department of Mines for the second time in two years because death removed the secretary.

In the summer of 1938 the Wilkes-Barre mine expert became acting secretary through the death of Michael J. Hartneady, Hazleton. Former Governor Earle filled the vacancy, and Walsh was acting secretary for the rest of Earle's administration.

Elements Give Pennsylvania First Respite From A Four-day Heat Wave That Cost at Least Twenty-Eight Lives from Prostration and Drowning, Although the Weather Bureau at Pittsburgh Says Temperature Drop Is Only Temporary

GENERALLY FAIR AND WARM IS FORECAST

By The Associated Press
The elements today gave Pennsylvania its first respite from a four-day heat wave that cost at least 28 lives from prostration and drowning.
However, throughout the nation weather forecasters predicted there was little relief in sight.
Since the hot spell set in 38 persons have succumbed from the heat in 12 states and 152 have drowned while seeking escape from the blazing sun and dense humidity in 31 states.
For the first time since Friday, temperatures began to drop in Pennsylvania following last night's heavy rain and morning showers. Philadelphia enjoyed cool breezes and temperatures that had reached only 75 at 11 a. m.
In the western part of the state scattered showers this morning checked the mercury's rise. Temperatures ranged from 73 to 81.
The drop in temperatures might be only temporary, however, the weather bureau warned in its forecast for tomorrow.
The state's death toll since Friday included at least 15 drownings and 13 fatalities due to the heat. The number of drowning victims increased to 15 with the drowning yesterday of Robert Ritchie, aged 9, in a private pool at Donora.
A moderate southwest wind off Lake Erie kept the mercury down in Buffalo, N. Y. A maximum of 80 was expected after scattered showers.

PACIFIC FLEET UNITS LEAVE PEARL HARBOR

Honolulu, July 23.—(P)—The United States fleet continued mysterious operations on the high seas today following the departure of major units for Lahaina roads and Pearl Harbor.

Two veterans, Senator Norris (Ind-Neb) and Glass (D-Va), stopped today after crossing the frontier.

French Soldiers Use "Underground Railway" In Flight From German-Occupied Sections

BY CHARLES S. FOLTZ, JR.
Bern, Switzerland, July 23.—(P)—Making use of an "underground railway" said to be spreading slowly through France in all directions, 13 French soldiers reached the Swiss frontier before dawn today still bearing arms after a month's flight through German-occupied regions.
The soldiers, led by a captain and a lieutenant, said they were part of a company which split into small groups and started for Switzerland when hemmed in by the Germans near Metz June 19—a few days before the armistice.
Like other isolated groups of French, Polish and English soldiers who have drifted across the border in recent weeks, the fugitives said they traveled mostly at night on their 120-mile journey. They surrendered their arms to a Swiss patrol after crossing the frontier.

Proposed Excess Profits Tax if Enacted to Enrich Treasury Almost $750,000,000 Year

Washington, July 23.—(P)—A high administration official forecast today that the proposed excess profits tax—designed to prevent "war millionaires"—would enrich the treasury by $500,000,000 to $750,000,000 a year.
It enacted, this would give the federal government in the coming year a record income of approximately $7,500,000,000.
This official indicated that while the measure was planned originally for a social purpose, it was developing into a major revenue source.
The defense taxes enacted a few weeks ago will yield only slightly more than his estimates of the profits levy. They are slated to raise $715,000,000 the first year, and then $984,000,000 a year for the next four years.
The profits tax is still in the drafting stage. It proposes to apply at the same time both of the methods tried during the World War—taxing extra profits above "normal earnings" or above "reasonable" return on capital investment.
General principles of the measure were discussed yesterday at a meeting of representatives of the treasury, house ways and means committee and senate finance committee.

National Compulsory Military Training Is Severely Criticized as Being Unnecessary

Senator Vandenberg, of Michigan, Informs Reporters He Is Not Convinced That Ordinary Reliance on Volunteers Would Fail

HEARING IS LAUNCHED

Washington, July 23.—(P)—Proposals for compulsory military training were criticized today by Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich.), who said he questioned the necessity of peace time conscription to fill the expanding ranks of the nation's armed forces.
President Roosevelt and the army high command have endorsed selective service as an essential element in the defense drive, but Vandenberg told reporters he was not convinced that "our ordinary reliance on volunteers" would fail to supply the necessary manpower.
As the senate military committee was called into closed session on the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory service bill, Vandenberg also indicated he did not see eye to eye with department proposals for mobilizing the national guard's 235,000 men if conscription is voted.
Mobilizing the militia for a year's training, said Vandenberg, might cause a "very cruel dislocation" in the homes of many guardsmen who did not expect "whole time service" with the regular land forces during peacetime.
However, two members of the military committee, Gurney (R-SD) and Minton (D-Ind.), announced that they would vote to recommend enactment of compulsory service. Minton, Democratic whip, announced: "It is for it the War Department says it is necessary."

'FREE CZECHOSLOVAKS' GIVEN RECOGNITION

London, July 23.—(P)—The Czechoslovak national committee in London announced today that Great Britain had recognized a new government for "Free Czechoslovak republic."
The new government has launched a national campaign abroad which is "fully supported by the 1,500,000 American Czechoslovaks," the committee said.

NO PRIVILEGES FOR ANNENBERG

Lewisburg, July 23.—(P)—Treatment such as is accorded any other prisoner awaits M. L. Annenberg when the Philadelphia publisher enters the gates of the Northeast Federal Penitentiary, Warden William H. Hiatt's office said today.
The wealthy publisher was expected here late today to begin serving a three-year term for violating federal tax laws. He began the 720-mile motor trip from Chicago yesterday, in company with U. S. Marshal William H. McDonald and Deputy Joseph Thimmes.
"Just like any other prisoner," said aides of the warden, Annenberg will be taken immediately to the quarantine ward where he will undergo the usual formalities—changing civilian clothes for drab prison garb; bath; medical examination and interviews for the compilation of records.
At the end of the usual 30-day quarantine period, Annenberg will undergo another medical examination, and will be taken before the prison's classification board. The board, composed of the heads of various departments at the prison, will have gained information during the quarantine period about his attitude, aptitudes, and interest to guide it in assigning work to him.

Besides the peace commission, the neutrality and economic commissions began deliberations.
Already apparent was Argentina's hesitating attitude toward broad commitments which might affect her future trade relations with Europe and which she feared might result in losses which would not be offset by concrete economic benefits from the United States or other American republics.

BUDGET BOOST FOR BRITISHERS IS STAGGERING

By The Associated Press
London, July 23.—(P)—Great Britain's leadership increased the nation's income tax today to an unprecedented rate of 42½ per cent to help meet an emergency war budget equaling $12,868,000,000.
That same leadership, however, refrained from further official notice of Adolf Hitler's peace bid and took every step in its power to fight to the last.
Perhaps the most startling thing about the staggering income tax is that it is to be deducted ratably from the wages of England's men and women.
This is possible under the government's dictatorial powers over all Britons and all they possess.
The emergency budget, presented to the House of Commons by Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Kingsley Wood, called for other drastic taxes and announced the government's intention of further restricting home consumption of "a wide range of goods."
The income tax was increased a full shilling in the pound sterling to a total of 8 shillings, 6 pence. This compares with the post World War rate, from 1918 to 1922, of 6 shillings, or 30 per cent.
Winston Churchill, answering a few questions of members before Sir Kingsley went to the dispatch box, said nothing whatsoever about Hitler's so-called "appeal to reason," made last Friday in his Reichstag speech.

Willkie's schedule then called for a plane trip to Salt Lake City and a visit to that city's rodeo tomorrow. Later tomorrow, he planned to have a look at the Ogden, Utah, rodeo.
An outline of the program for Willkie's acceptance address at Elwood, Ind., was completed yesterday and the nominee set August 17 as the day for the address.

time in two years because death removed the secretary.

Until Governor James fills the cabinet post of John Ira Thomas, who died Saturday, Walsh auto-

In the summer of 1938 the

their own "home guard" to help Britain's defense volunteers fight off any attempt at invasion.

Because many American resi-

New York, July 23.—(P)—A new deal in their sentiments, today caused their close friends to predict that shortly they might announce active support of Wen-

The men—Alfred E. Smith, the 28 Democratic presidential candidate; John J. Raskob and J. P. Monahan—met for dinner last night and continued their conference until almost midnight. Afterward Shouse returned to Washington.

Raskob is a former chairman of the national Democratic chairman and Shouse was at one time chairman of the executive committee of the national committee.

Smith, although aware of a story in the New York Herald-Tribune, which he said that he would soon announce his opposition to a third term for President Roosevelt, did not make himself available for comment.

Raskob, in answer to the fol-

He would not discuss the subjects he talked over with Smith close friends, however, said they had no doubt but that he would

The three men have been inti-

Berlin, July 23.—(P)—Balkan problems will be discussed this coming weekend by German, Rumanian and Bulgarian leaders in Salzburg, an authorized German source said today.

Premier Ion Gurgutu and Foreign Minister Mihail Manoilescu of Rumania, and Premier Bogdan Philoff and Foreign Minister Ivan Popoff of Bulgaria will meet Friday with German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop.

The conference, expected to last two days, was described as a continuation of the recent Munich deliberations between the Fuehrer, Ribbentrop, Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano and Premier Pal Teleky and Foreign Minister Istvan Csaky of Hungary.

It was understood at that time that Hungary had been advised to defer her territorial claims on Rumania until after Germany's conflict with Britain ends.

Informal German quarters indicated Slovak representatives might be invited to a conference later.

Italian High Command announced today.

Much of the Atmosphere of A Farewell to Washing- ton Both at Garner's Of- fices and Later at Union Station as He Makes De- parture

Washington, July 23.—(P)—
Vice President Garner rode southward toward his Texas home today, silent about a third term for President Roosevelt and any plans for returning to Washington to serve out his own second term.

"I want to have the same rights as my leader, first, to change my mind, or second, to delay my decisions," he told a reporter as he and Mrs. Garner boarded their special railroad car last night.

The vice president made it plain that "my leader" was President Roosevelt and the other references developed over the third term issue
prior to the Chicago convention, where Garner sought the presidential nomination in his own right.

RAYBURN IN TEARS

Washington, July 23.—(P)—
The senate is without a presiding officer today—but no session is scheduled until Thursday, Vice President Garner is enroute to Texas. Senator Pittman (D-Neu), president pro tempore, is in Nevada.

Parliamentarians said a possible complication had been averted by the fact that Pittman had signed a paper permitting designation of Senator Harrison (D-Miss) as presiding officer.

There was much of the atmosphere of a farewell to Washington both at the vice president's offices and later at Union Station. However, old friends of "Cactus Jack," who came here in 1903 as a young congressman, said they expected him to return. He is going to Texas ostensibly to vote in the primary election.

Rep. Rayburn (D-Tex), house majority leader and longtime friend of the Garners, had tears in his eyes as he kissed Mrs. Garner goodbye.

Two veterans, Senator Norris (Ind-Neb) and Glass (D-Va), stopped to bid him farewell.

French Soldiers Use "Underground Railway" In Flight From German-Occupied Sections

BY CHARLES S. FOLTZ, JR.
Bern, Switzerland, July 23.—(P)— Making use of an "underground railway" said to be spreading slowly through France in all directions, 13 French soldiers reached the Swiss frontier before dawn today still bearing arms after a month's flight through German-occupied regions.

The soldiers, led by a captain and a lieutenant, said they were part of a company which split into small groups and started for Switzerland when hemmed in by the Germans near Metz June 19—a few days before the armistice.

Like other isolated groups of French, Polish and English soldiers who have drifted across the border in recent weeks, the fugitives said they traveled mostly at night on their 120-mile journey.
They surrendered their arms to a Swiss patrol after crossing the frontier.

GENERALLY FAIR AND WARM IS FORECAST

By The Associated Press
The elements today gave Pennsylvania its first respite from a four-day heat wave that cost at least 28 lives from prostration and drowning.

However, throughout the nation weather forecasters predicted
there was little relief in sight.

Since the hot spell set in 28 persons have succumbed from the heat in 12 states and 152 have drowned while seeking escape from the blazing sun and dense humidity in 31 states.

For the first time since Friday, temperatures began to drop in Pennsylvania following last night's fairly general thunderstorms and scattered early morning showers.

Philadelphia enjoyed cool breezes and temperatures that had reached only 75 at 11 a. m.

In the western part of the state scattered showers this morning checked the mercury's rise. Temperatures ranged from 73 to 81.

The drop in temperatures might be only temporary, however, the weather bureau warned in its forecasts for tomorrow.

A moderate southwest wind off
Lake Erie kept the mercury down in Buffalo, N. Y. A maximum of 80 was expected after scattered

PACIFIC FLEET UNITS LEAVE PEARL HARBOR

Honolulu, July 23.—(P)—The United States fleet continued mystery-veiled operations on the high seas today following the departure of major units for Lahaina roads and Pearl Harbor.

Lahaina roads, Maui Island, where most of the fleet had been based for a scheduled three weeks maneuvers and target practice, was evacuated last Friday. Other units left Pearl Harbor yesterday.

INJURIES ARE FATAL

Ellwood City, July 23.—(P)—

FREE CZECHOSLOVAKS GIVEN RECOGNITION

London, July 23.—(P)—The Czechoslovak national committee in London announced today that Great Britain had recognized a new government for "Free Czechoslovak republic."

The new government has launched a national campaign abroad which is "fully supported by the 1,500,000 American Czechoslovaks," the committee said.

Treatment such as is accorded any other prisoner awaits M. L. Annenberg when the Philadelphia publisher enters the gates of the Northeastern Federal Penitentiary, Warden William H. Hiatt's office said today.

The wealthy publisher was expected here today to begin serving a three-year term for violating federal tax laws. He began the 720-mile motor trip from Chicago yesterday, in company with U. S. Marshal William H. McDonnell and Deputy Joseph Thimmes.

"Just like any other prisoner," said aides of the warden, Annenberg will be taken immediately to the quarantine ward where he will undergo the usual formalities—changing civilian clothes for drab prison garb; bath, medical examination, and interviews for the compilation of records.

At the end of the usual 30-day quarantine period, Annenberg will undergo another medical examination, and will be taken before the prison's classification board. The board, composed of the heads of various departments at the prison, will have gained information during the quarantine period about his attitude, aptitudes, and interest to guide it in assigning work to him.

Proposed Excess Profits Tax if Enacted to Enrich Treasury Almost $750,000,000 Year

Washington, July 23.—(P)—A high administration official forecast today that the proposed excess profits tax—designed to prevent "war millionaires"—would enrich the treasury by $500,000,000 to $750,000,000 a year.

If enacted, this would give the federal government in the coming year a record income of approximately $7,500,000,000.

This official indicated that while the measure was planned originally for a social purpose, it was developing into a major revenue source. The defense taxes enacted a few weeks ago will yield only slightly more than his estimates of the profits levy. They are slated to raise $715,000,000 the first year, and then $994,000,000 a year for the next four years.

The profits tax is still in the drafting stage. It proposes to apply at the same time both of the methods tried during the World War—taxing extra profits above
"normal earnings" or above a
"reasonable" return on capital investment.

General principles of the measure were discussed yesterday at a meeting of representatives of the treasury, house ways and means committee and senate finance committee.

GOVERNOR AT THOMAS RITES WITH CABINET

Philadelphia, July 23.—(P)—The State officials—including Governor Arthur H. James and his cabinet —and hundreds of friends crowding into the street attended funeral services for Secretary of Mines
John Ira Thomas in this Cen-

The Rev. I. L. Clark, Baptist pastor here, officiated at the rites held in the large, white Thomas home, packed by mourners from Phillipsburg and out-of-town.

A special squad of State Police was called to handle the traffic.

While state offices closed during the services, the following depart-

BUDGET BOOST FOR BRITISHERS IS STAGGERING

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
London, July 28.—(P)—Great Britain's leadership increased the nation's income tax today to an unprecedented rate of 42½ per cent to help meet an emergency war budget equalling $13,868,000-000.

That same leadership, however, refrained from further official pledge of Adolf Hitler's peace bid and took every step in its power to fight to the last.

Perhaps the most startling thing about the staggering income tax is that it is to be deducted rabbitarily from the wages of England's men and women.

This is possible under the government's dictatorial powers over all Britons and all they possess.

The emergency budget, presented to the House of Commons by Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Kingsley Wood, called for other drastic taxes and announced the government's intention of further restricting home consumption of "a wide range of goods."

The income tax was increased a full shilling in the pound sterling to a total of 8 shillings, 5 pence, or 42½ per cent, from 1918 to 1922, of 6 shillings, or 30 per cent.

Winston Churchill, answering a few questions of members before Sir Kingsley went to the dispatch box, said nothing whatsoever about Hitler's so-called "appeal to reason," made last Friday in his Reichstag speech.

Republican Nominee To Take in a Rodeo

BY WILLIAM B. ARDERY
Colorado Springs, Colo., July 23
(P)—Wendell L. Willkie settled on a two-day swing through Wyoming and Utah to join westerners in enjoying their most typical sport—wattling cowboys wrestle plunging steers or try to ride jolting broncos.

Accompanied by Mrs. Willkie, the Republican nominee left here in the early morning by plane for Denver and then go by train to the Cheyenne, Wyo., frontier days celebration.

Willkie's schedule then called for a plane trip to Salt Lake City and a visit to that city's rodeo tomorrow. Later tomorrow, he planned to have a look at the Ogden, Utah, rodeo.

An outline of the program for Willkie's acceptance address at Elwood, Ind., was completed yesterday and the nominee set August 17
as the day for the address.

Large and Elaborately Furnished Liners To Be Renounced in Petain's New Program

Vichy, France, July 23.—(P)—
The new French government announced today a program to modernize and increase the French merchant marine while "renouncing" large and elaborately furnished liners such as the Normandie.
(The Normandie at present is in New York harbor and Great Britain has announced she would seize any French merchant ships found plying the seas.)

Admiral Jean Darlan, secretary-general of the French military and merchant marine, said in explaining the new program that wealthy passengers wanting to travel quickly would be obliged to use planes. Others in less hurry would travel on cargo-passenger steamers.

Admiral Darlan advocated attachment of a maritime aerial service to his department for greater coordination. French shipyards in the future will concentrate on motorships carrying both passengers and cargo and having a speed of about 20 knots, he said.

LESLIE HOWARD IN "INTER-

OPENS WEDNESDAY AT COLUMBIA

Do you know that Leslie Howard, star of David O. Selznick's "Intermezzo, A Love Story," scheduled for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at the Columbia Theatre, through United Artists release, is Hollywood's champion pipe smoker? The celebrated star believes that there is a pipe for every mood and a mood for every pipe that's worth smoking at all. He owns one of the most interesting collections on earth and none of his 109 pipes is merely decorative. His favorites are straight-stemmed briars with ample bowls. By his own admission, Howard is a man of many moods, indeed, he believes, by a variety of interests. While appearing on the set of "Intermezzo, A Love Story," Howard smoked a small briar that naturally had to disappear into his pocket at intervals.

Glamorous Zorina and handsome Richard Greene made a stunning couple in "I Was An Adventuress," the 20th Century-Fox romantic drama, at the Columbia Theatre, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, in which Zorina stars by courtesy of Samuel Goldwyn, to whom she is under contract.

LESLIE HOWARD IN "INTERMEZZO, A LOVE STORY," OPENS WEDNESDAY AT COLUMBIA

Do you know that Leslie Howard, star of David O. Selznick's "Intermezzo, A Love Story," scheduled for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at the Columbia Theatre, through United Artists release, is Hollywood's champion pipe smoker? The celebrated star believes that there is a pipe for every mood and a mood for every pipe that's worth smoking at all. He owns one of the most interesting collections on earth and none of his favorites are straight-stemmed briars with ample bowls. By his own admission, Howard is a man of many moods, indeed, he believes, by a variety of interests. While appearing on the set of "Intermezzo, A Love Story," Howard smoked a small briar that naturally had to disappear into his pocket at intervals.

Glamorous Zorina and handsome Richard Greene made a stunning couple in "I Was an Adventuress," the 20th Century-Fox romantic drama, at the Columbia Theatre, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, in which Zorina stars by courtesy of Samuel Goldwyn, to whom she is under contract.

The film is set against a lavish

SOAP BOX RACE
BEING PLANNED
AT SHEFFIELD

Sheffield, July 23.—Sheffield's annual soap box race will be held this year on August 16, Vernon Klingensmith, WPA recreational leader, who is in charge of the event, has announced.

Restricted in other years to local entrants, the event this year has been opened to the youths of Tiona, Clarendon, Ludlow and Barnes, as well as those of Sheffield.

Any youth from the above mentioned towns who is 17 years of age or under is free to enter and compete in the race. Any boy from 17 to 21 years of age may build a car and enter it in the race, but must engage a qualified driver to do the driving.

Site of the race has not been selected to date, but it probably will be School street, where the other races have been run, or Tionesta street.

Any youth planning to enter the event must file an application with Mr. Klingensmith, including besides his name such information as his age, address and the name of his sponsor.

Specifications for the types of racers eligible for the competition will be furnished by Mr. Klingensmith, who will also furnish the entrant with a copy of the rules governing the race.

STATE FORESTRY
DEPARTMENT TO PROVIDE TREES

Trees available for shipment this fall and next spring were listed today by the Department of Forests and Waters of the state. The department recommends spring planting in preference to fall planting, according to William H. Smith, state district forester here, because trees planted in the fall are liable to be heaved by the frost, are more likely to be injured by the wind, thus causing winter-killing, and on wet or heavy soils their roots are more subject to decay.

Trees will be reserved in the order in which applications are received until the available supply of each species is exhausted, it was pointed out. It is not too early now to order trees for planting in the spring of 1941. A large number of 1941 orders are already on file, Smith said.

Only orders for the minimum of 1,000 trees in lots of 500 of each kind are acceptable, it was stated. The price per thousand trees is $2.00 for seedlings and $5.00 for transplants. Transplants are seedlings that have grown two years in seed beds and, after being transplanted, have grown two years in transplant beds.

It is expected that with a normal growing summer, the following trees will be available:

Seedlings—Red pine, 2 years old; white pine, 3 years; Norway spruce, 3 years; white spruce, 3 years; Scotch pine, 2 years; Banks pine, 2 years; Japanese larch, 2 years; pitch pine, 2 years; black locust, 1 year; black walnut, 1 year.

Transplants—Red pine, Norway spruce and white spruce.

State trees cannot be sold for shade or ornamental trees. They must not be planted for Christmas trees, windbreaks, hedges or pot-tered trees.

Additional information may be obtained from the Department of Forests and Waters, Division of Management, Harrisburg, or the State District Forest, Warren.

TIMES TOPICS

MUST FILE BLANKS

All students who have enrolled and passed their physical examinations for the CPT flight training at the Warren Airport are asked to report at the airport tonight or tomorrow to fill out their application blanks, according to V. S. King, field manager. This is quite necessary, as each contestant must have the proper application and all must be sent to Washington before the class can start, it was stated.

IS COMING HOME

Miss Margaret Saylor, 6 Myrtle street, who is a patient in the Grove City Hospital, is expected home on Wednesday.

STRUTHERS HOSE

A meeting of the Struthers Hose Company will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock. All members are requested to be present, as matters of importance are to be discussed.

AT TRAINING SCHOOL

Miss Hulda Angermann, office secretary and young people's worker in the First Presbyterian church left yesterday for Wooster, O., where she will attend the Presbyterian summer training school for a two-week period.

AT CORYDON CHURCH

Mrs. James W. Crooks spoke Sunday morning at the Corydon Methodist church in the absence of the pastor, Mrs. Ona B. Chilson. Her talk was not only timely but most inspiring. On Sunday evening she was in charge of the Kinzua Methodist program.

PERSONALS

Buddy Nelson, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Nelson, is recovering at home from a siege of whooping cough, an illness of which there is a mild epidemic in town this summer.

Park Commissioner
Seeks Cooperation
Of Local Residents

William R. Kopf, borough park commissioner, has asked the Times-Mirror to broadcast a communication that is both an appeal and a warning to those responsible for recent damages to local parks and beauty spots.

Mr. Kopf reports that on several occasions within the past three weeks considerable damage has been done to Washington Park, which has won the reputation of one of the nicest recreation spots in the vicinity. It has been kept neat and clean and has brought many compliments for those responsible for this work.

In the future, however, thorough police and apprehension of the culprits will mean arrest and prosecution, Mr. Kopf asked the Times-Mirror to state.

Air Mail Pick-up Service To Be Resumed Here About August First

Resumption of air mail pick-up and delivery service for Warren is expected about August 1st as the result of the Civil Aeronautics Authority's action yesterday approving the service, according to an Associated Press dispatch received by the Times-Mirror today.

A permanent permit for the service was granted yesterday to All-American Aviation, Inc., operated by Richard du Pont, of Wilmington, Del.

The permit calls for five pick-up and delivery air mail and express routes radiating from Pittsburgh. The dispatch stated that the company will have two terminals at Huntington, W. Va., and one each at Jamestown, N. Y., Williamsport and Philadelphia.

A spokesman for All-American Aviation said today that representatives of the company will confer with Post Office Department officials in Washington tomorrow on arrangements for handling mail.

While the air mail and express pick-up service was approved, the CAA rejected the line's application to carry passengers who could be landed at intermediate points where adequate landing facilities are available.

Neither the Warren Airport nor the local post office had received word of the approval today. However, it is expected that Postmaster James K. Bell will be notified following the conference in Washington tomorrow.

Under the former plan, Warren was on the Philadelphia-Pittsburgh route. However, the last plans an-

Colonel Means stated that 1,290 enlisted men, 63 regular officers and 60 reserve officers have been assigned to the 112th during participation in the scheduled man-

SNEEZE SEASON

Harrisburg, July 23.—(P)—What crop experts call a "good weed year" is building Pennsylvania hayfever sufferers up to a bumper crop of sneezes and wheezes. Flagrant weed conditions, caused by heavy spring rains, practically insure a heavy swirl of ragweed pollen next month, authorities said. The season is already open for persons susceptible to timothy and rose pollen.

BLAME GANG WARFARE

Scranton, July 23.—(P)—A new outbreak in gang warfare was blamed unofficially here today for a bomb explosion that wrecked a second floor gambling establishment. The bomb shattered eight plate glass windows and a number of smaller ones besides ripping open the floor and destroying the equipment.

POPULATION RISES

An increase of more than 2,800 in the population of Erie county in the past decade was disclosed in a preliminary report by Census Supervisor F. J. McDonald. The county grew from 175,277 in 1930 to 178,128 this year. Erie increased from 115,967 to 116,247. Corry showed a decrease from 7,152 to 6,993.

JEWELS RETURNED

Corry police authorities yesterday announced that they had been advised by Mrs. Flora Holly, of that city, that upwards of $1,500 in cash and jewelry allegedly stolen from her on June 30th had been returned over the week-end. Mrs. Holly reported the gems and money were returned by two persons, but declined to divulge their names and told police she did not care to press charges.

YOUTHS APPREHENDED

THE ONLY ANSWER

The U. S. is woefully unprepared for defense in trained personnel and all forms of modern equipment (see accompanying chart). Selective compulsory military training and service is the only practical solution of the vital personnel problem.

Only highway for quick passage of U. S. Fleet from Pacific to Atlantic. One well placed bomb might block canal for weeks.

BASE FOR INVASION

The eastern bulge of Brazil is less than 2,000 miles from bases in French West Africa, now at the disposal of Hitler and Mussolini. Invasion of Brazil at this point would give the aggressor bases from which to launch operations from the air against the Panama Canal. Some military observers believe this will be the first step taken by the Nazi-Fascist combination, if it decides to invade the Americas.

The combined regular armies of the 20 Latin American republics is approximately 400,000, with partially-equipped reserves totaling 1,750,000.

BECAUSE of this weakness, the Western Hemisphere, with its vast natural resources and raw materials, now is as great a lure for conquest as ever existed. With our Navy in the Pacific, the British Fleet is our first line of defense in the Atlantic. Our second is our regular army of 264,000 men and a National Guard of 242,300, ill-equipped for mechanical warfare. How long can we continue to depend on the supremacy of the British Navy in the Atlantic?

PROVISIONS for the speedy expansion of our armed forces on a scale great enough to insure the continued safety of the nation are included in the selective compulsory training and service bill introduced in the Senate by Senator Edward R. Burke, Democrat, of Nebraska, and in the House by Representative James W. Wadsworth, Republican, of New York. Under this measure, sponsored by the National Emergency Committee of the Military Training Camps Association, a gigantic reservoir of manpower would be trained and be on call for service in emergencies, in numbers determined by the President and the Secretaries of War and Navy.

Sheffield, July 23—Sheffield's annual soap box race will be held this year on August 16, Vernon Klingensmith, WPA recreational leader, who is in charge of the event, has announced.

Restricted in other years to local entrants, the event this year has been opened to the youths of Tiona, Clarendon, Ludlow and Barnes, as well as those of Sheffield.

Any youth from the above mentioned towns who is 17 years of age or under is free to enter and compete in the race. Any boy from 17 to 21 years of age may build a car and enter it in the race, but must engage a qualified driver to do the driving.

Site of the race has not been selected to date, but it probably will be School street, where the other races have been run, or Tionesta street.

Any youth planning to enter the event must file an application with Mr. Klingensmith, including besides his name such information as his age, address and the name of his sponsor.

Specifications for the types of racers eligible for the competition will be furnished by Mr. Klingensmith, who will also furnish the entrant with a copy of the rules governing the race.

STATE FORESTRY DEPARTMENT TO PROVIDE TREES

Trees available for shipment this fall and next spring were listed today by the Department of Forests and Waters of the state. The department recommends spring planting in preference to fall planting, according to William H. Smith, state district forester here, because trees planted in the fall are liable to be heaved by the frost, are more likely to be injured by the wind, thus causing winter-killing, and on wet or heavy soils their roots are more subject to decay.

Trees will be reserved in the order in which applications are received until the available supply of each species is exhausted. It was pointed out. It is not too early now to order trees for planting in the spring of 1941. A large number of 1941 orders are already on file, Smith said.

Only orders for the minimum of 1,000 trees in lots of 500 of each kind are acceptable, it was stated. The price per thousand trees is $2.00 for seedlings and $5.00 for transplants. Transplants are seedlings that have grown two years in seed beds and, after being transplanted, have grown two years in transplant beds.

It is expected that with a normal growing summer, the following trees will be available:

Seedlings—Red pine, 3 years old; white pine, 3 years; Norway spruce, 3 years; white spruce, 3 years; Scotch pine, 2 years; Banks pine, 2 years; Japanese larch, 2 years; pitch pine, 2 years; black locust, 1 year; black walnut, 1 year.

Transplants—Red pine, Norway spruce and white spruce.

State trees cannot be sold for shade or ornamental trees. They must not be planted for Christmas trees, windbreaks, hedges or pot-tered trees.

Additional information may be obtained from the Department of Forests and Waters, Division of Management, Harrisburg, or the State District Forest, Warren.

HONOR PIONEERS

From an interested subscriber we received the following very interesting article regarding a dedication that is scheduled to take place at Youngsville Thursday afternoon, that should interest every reader who appreciates the sacrifices that were made by early pioneers who settled Warren county:

"The erection of markers upon or near sites of historical interest brings the present and future generations in closer touch with days long past. This is as it should be.

"The Mead family figured largely in the early history of Crawford and Warren counties. Their war records are well known, but many of the Meads, too old or too young to serve their country thus, were nevertheless contributing their time and ability in making habitable a wilderness where heretofore only the red man had pitched his wigwam, fished the streams, or with bow and arrow slew the wild game of the forest.

"From near what is now the city of Meadville, to the wilderness of the Brokenstraw Valley in 1795 came Darius Mead and his brother Joseph to make this beautiful valley their permanent home. Later they were followed by John Mead. Here they built homes, school, church and realizing the need of mills, erected the first grist mill and saw mill in Warren county.

"The Brokenstraw branch of the Mead descendants have honored these pioneer ancestors by placing a memorial at the end of West Main street, Youngsville.

"It is near the site of the old mill and on property that originally belonged to the plot owned by the Meads. The memorial is outstanding, and in keeping with what it represents as the old mill stones, which ground the grain, are used in its construction. Thus not only the builders have been honored, but the old mill stones have been preserved that future generations may better understand the method of grain grinding in the early days.

"The dedication of this memorial will take place Thursday, July 25, at 3:30 p. m. (D. S. T.) at the west end of West Main street, Youngsville, and not only the citizens of Youngsville are most cordially invited to be present, but anyone interested in the early history of Warren county will be very welcome.

"A prominent attorney of Erie will be the speaker at the dedication ceremony. Plan to be present."

LESSON IN MAGNITUDE

The United States is not by nature a militaristic nation, and when faced by a military problem it is apt to minimize the difficulties and demand instant (and miraculous) action.

It is interesting to note a little detail, therefore. In the course of this summer's maneuvers, some 132,901 men and their equipment are to be transported. For Switzerland or Rumania that would not be a large operation, but many will be surprised to note that it implies the use of 466 special trains, 3112 coaches, 1324 baggage cars, and 497 flat cars among other rolling stock.

Careful arrangements have had to be made to have this ready and available. There is no question, thanks to the efficiency of the American railroad system, that it will be well and easily done. But somehow the picture of those 466 special trains rolling across the country brings home the magnitude of modern military operations in a way in which Americans are not accustomed to consider them.

PLEADS FOR HAYFEVER SUFFERERS

Hayfever sufferers in Warren and vicinity will doubtless be surprised to learn that there is an organization known as the Tyler Hayfever Sufferers Association, located at Tyler, Texas, and according to a post card just received it is doing something besides putting the town of Tyler on the map.

The request received from M. B. Rudman, state president of the association, is a simple one, and we've decided to comply, in the hopes that he may receive desired co-operation from vacant lot owners. He says: "All hayfever sufferers in the country would sincerely appreciate an article in your paper asking citizens to cooperate with the paper by cutting their weeds—particularly ragweeds. This is purely a humane cause originated for the purpose of relieving hayfever sufferers of the most vicious of its causes—ragweed which causes 90% of the suffering!"

You won't have to go further than the Municipal building for entertainment Wednesday evening—the V. F. W. band will be presenting another of those popular neighborhood concerts.

(This is the second of two articles sizing up the main issues in the presidential campaign.)

Washington, July 23—The general idea in picking a vice presidential nominee is to "balance the ticket" and harmonize such discordant elements as may be on hand.

That idea had a part both in the Republican choice of Senator Charles McNary and in the Democratic choice of Secretary Henry A. Wallace; but in each case there is more to it than that, and the vice presidential nominee can be expected to play a more than ordinarily important part in the campaign.

McNary's selection was a broad hint that Wendell Willkie is not by any means going to be the smug Wall Street reactionary which a top-flight utility executive is generally supposed to be.

McNary is no radical, but he is no conservative either. Back in the Hoover days he became famous—and sent shivers up and down big business spines—by authoring and fighting for the McNary-Haugen bill for the handling of farm surpluses. This was a measure so sweeping that even a New Deal farm program was originally looked upon as something rather mild and probably less expensive.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From the Warren Evening Times

In 1920

Lights that have been ordered for months by Council are being hung on Poplar street, near Fifth, another on a pole midway between the Revere House and Public Way. This fills a long-felt want. For years timid women have been passing this block with fears of being attacked in the dense darkness.

One of the features of next week's meeting of the Lake Erie Trotting Association to be held at the fair grounds here will be the driving of one of the very few women appearing in sulky races. Mrs. Daust, who pilots a string of horses owned by herself and husband.

Officers of the Stoneham W. C. T. U. were appointed last night as follows: President, Mrs. Edith Kitzer; vice president, Mrs. Carrie Armagost; second vice president, Mrs. Leona Mead; treasurer, Mrs. Mabel Sharp; recording secretary, Mrs. Elizabeth Seay; assistant, Mrs. Esther Stroud.

Up to date Warren has won eleven games and lost five, which is an average of 68.8. In none of the games played were the Butter-Krists swamped.

Captains of the teams that will raise the $14,256 for the Old Home Week celebration, will meet this evening to line up for the drive on Monday.

In 1930

Sixteen boys have signed up to work for tuition in the flying school to be opened at the new airport. They are James Sirianno, William Watson, Paul Locas, William Iseman, Albert Hesd, Russell Gordon, Lawrence Kabe, Michael Russo, Thomas Herron, Frank Herron, Malcolm O'Neill, Glenn McGee, Charles McZio, Paul Wade and Charles Barton.

At last the three-sitting craze has hit Warren. Two South Side youths—Vance Ross and Norman Smith—ascended a tree yesterday morning with the intention of staying there indefinitely, but they had to come down again at six thirty last evening. They are going to try it again next week.

The high and mighty State Bankers, winners of the first half of the Sunset Baseball League, took a big drop to the cellar last night when they were defeated by the Carlson Service crew, 16-2. It is the first time the money lenders have hit the cellar in two years.

A. A. Printz, camp chief for the Conewago Fishing Club is busy with plans for the annual camping and fishing trip to be taken this year by members of the club.

Sheriff Jefferson returned today from Easton, where he attended the convention of County Sheriffs.

because they felt that with Roosevelt renominated the election was as good as won.

The other implication is grimmer. The last thing anyone usually thinks of, in picking a vice presidential nominee, is the chance that the man might some day become president. That thought was very much in mind when Wallace's nomination was asked for.

KING CAROL of Rumania adds six new portraits to his well stocked philatelic gallery with two new series of 10 semi-postals. The first group of six values and five designs commemorates the 10th anniversary of his accession to the throne; a second group of four values shows the king in military uniform.

Rumania also has issued a national youth series of eight designs picturing ruins, monuments and public buildings.

The U. S. 3-cent Swedish-Finnish Tercentenary issue and the U. S. 3-cent Constitution Ratification commemorative, both issued in 1938, have been withdrawn from sale at the Philatelic Agency.

Manchukuo has announced an issue of two stamps commemorating the visit of Emperor Kang Teh to Tokio. The design pictures a stork flying over the imperial flag of Manchukuo. During a previous trip to Japan a stork actually appeared, followed the emperor's ship.

Chile has issued a new railroad issue, showing a train, in the regular postage series. A native tree will be pictured on another new postage value, recently authorized.

A Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Leaves from a Chicago diary:

Be sure to notify Wall street and the bookies that the odds already are on the Democrats to remain in power. They are not wonderful odds, but they are an edge. They're 5 to 4.

Here's how. Of the 18 men who have been nominated in Windy City conventions, 10 have been blown right into the White House by November balloting. The first was Abe Lincoln, in 1860, when managers for Dark Horse Abe packed the galleries of the old Wigwam (which looked like an oversized pit for cockfights) and swept their candidate into power with a wild hallelaloo as the city ever has seen.

Cleveland (twice), Grant, Garfield, Blaine, Roosevelt I, Harrison, Harding, Taft and Roosevelt II all got "mandates" here—and residences in Washington.

Old-timers around here like Pat Nash, the white-haired veteran of Illinois politics, tell me that the "hottest" convention ever held here wasn't Democratic, but Republican. It was 1912, when Roosevelt I, trying to rough-ride over Taft, got his ears pinned back in a scrap over seating of delegates and "took a walk" with his Bull Moose party. The politicians who figure Chicago is the luckiest convention city in the land add the Bull Moose convention nomination of Teddy, too, because although he didn't win the election, he did give William Howard a licking at the polls.

Where's Cactus Jack?

KEEP working to uncover that convention mystery: Why "Cactus Jack" Garner did a fade-out during the early part of the convention and for days couldn't be reached by telephone or personal appeal. Even close friends couldn't find out where he was. Maybe it's a new political technique... but it sure was applied with a vengeance. If the Cactus Coolidge, as Heywood Brown once dubbed him, had been week-ending in Uvalde, he couldn't have been any more scarce around Chicago. It had his backers biting their nails and using the kind of language that would have shocked the Texas rangers.

Out-Voted His Boss

FUNNIEST filip that came out of the split-vote business, though, concerned Edward Higgins, secretary to Senator Theodore F. Green, of Rhode Island. The Senator was delegate-at-large but he only had half a vote, while his employe, elected delegate from the Panama Canal zone could stand right up and say "one vote" every time the Senator put in his half-penny's worth.

Habit lay heavily on House Speaker William B. Bankhead today... and threw him into confusion. When he walked into his big press conference, he seemed lost... looked helplessly around and said: "Who's in charge here? I can't be, I haven't any gavel." I can't find "One-Eyed" Connolly but if he gets into this convention without a ticket, he deserves the gate-crashers' Pulitzer. It takes a blitzkrieg of five Maginot lines of gatekeepers and sometimes the storming of a whole rear-guard of sergeants-at-arm to get a seat.

Just to give you a hint of what women's suffrage has done to ward dressing-up political conventions, make a note that Helen Gahagan, actress and wife of Actor Melvyn Douglas, is national committeewoman from California, ah!

HONOR PIONEERS

From an interested subscriber we received the following very interesting article regarding a dedication that is scheduled to take place at Youngsville Thursday afternoon, that should interest every reader who appreciates the sacrifices that were made by early pioneers who settled Warren county:

"The erection of markers upon or near sites of historical interest brings the present and future generations in closer touch with days long past. This is as it should be.

"The Mead family figured largely in the early history of Crawford and Warren counties. Their war records are well known, but many of the Meads, too old or too young to serve their country thus, were nevertheless contributing their time and ability in making habitable a wilderness where heretofore only the red man had pitched his wigwam, fished the streams, or with bow and arrow slew the wild game of the forest.

"From near, what is now the city of Meadville, to the wilderness of the Brokenstraw Valley in 1795 came Darius Mead and his brother Joseph to make this beautiful valley their permanent home. Later they were followed by John Mead. Here they built homes, school, church and realizing the need of mills, erected the first grist mill and saw mill in Warren county.

"The Brokenstraw branch of the Mead descendants have honored these pioneer ancestors by placing a memorial at the end of West Main street, Youngsville. "It is near the site of the old mill and on property that originally belonged to the plot owned by the Meads. The memorial is outstanding, and in keeping with what it represents as the old mill stones, which ground the grain, are used in its construction. Thus not only the builders have been honored, but the old mill stones have been preserved that future generations may better understand the method of grain grinding in the early days.

"The dedication of this memorial will take place Thursday, July 25, at 3:30 p. m. (D. S. T.) at the west end of West Main street, Youngsville, and not only the citizens of Youngsville are most cordially invited to be present, but anyone interested in the early history of Warren county will be very welcome.

"A prominent attorney of Erie will be the speaker at the dedication ceremony. Plan to be present."

LESSON IN MAGNITUDE

The United States is not by nature a militaristic nation, and when faced by a military problem it is apt to minimize the difficulties and demand instant (and miraculous) action.

It is interesting to note a little detail, therefore. In the course of this summer's maneuvers, some 132,901 men and their equipment are to be transported. For Switzerland or Rumania that would not be a large operation, but many will be surprised to note that it implies the use of 466 special trains, 3112 coaches, 1324 baggage cars, and 497 flat cars among other rolling stock.

Careful arrangements have had to be made to have this ready and available. There is no question, thanks to the efficiency of the American railroad system, that it will be well and easily done. But somehow the picture of those 466 special trains rolling across the country brings home the magnitude of modern military operations in a way in which Americans are not accustomed to consider them.

PLEADS FOR HAYFEVER SUFFERERS

Hayfever sufferers in Warren and vicinity will doubtless be surprised to learn that there is an organization known as the Tyler Hayfever Sufferers Association, located at Tyler, Texas, and according to a post card just received it is doing something besides putting the town of Tyler on the map.

The request received from M. B. Rudman, state president of the association, is a simple one, and we've decided to comply, in the hopes that he may receive desired co-operation from vacant lot owners. He says:

"All hayfever sufferers in the country would sincerely appreciate an article in your paper asking citizens to cooperate with the paper by cutting their weeds—particularly ragweeds. You won't have to go further than the Municipal building for entertainment Wednesday evening—the V. F. W. band will be presenting another of those popular neighborhood concerts.

(This is the second of two articles sizing up the main issues in the presidential campaign.)

That idea had a part both in the Republican choice of Senator Charles L. McNary and in the Democratic choice of Secretary Henry A. This was a measure so sweeping that even a New Deal farm program was originally looked upon as something rather milder and probably less expensive.

McNary has had few fights as spectacular as that one. But in general he can be said to have occupied ground tolerably close to the New Deal camp—even though as minority leader in the Senate, he has effectively sniped at the Democratic majority. Certainly on the farm problem in general, McNary is no great way removed from Secretary Wallace.

Ordinarily it would be surprising to see the chief New Dealer pick a sincere New Dealer like Wallace as his running mate. But the situation at Chicago was rather special.

First of all, there was a rather bad internal situation for the Democratic high command to handle. A considerable number of southern and mildly right-wing Democrats didn't like the third term draft and the practical politicians in the Roosevelt camp wanted to placate them by naming some such person as Speaker Bankhead.

That Wallace was chosen shows clearly a decision in the Roosevelt camp to shoot the works—to line the Democratic party up unmistakably as the liberal party, as the New Deal party. The chance to do some much-needed appeasing of the party's malcontents was passed up.

The Wallace nomination has two other implications. One is that the New Dealers are supremely confident—probably over-confident—of victory in November. They dared to ignore the demand for appeasement simply because they felt that with Roosevelt renominated the election was as good as won.

The other implication is grimmer. The last thing anyone usually thinks of in picking a vice presidential nominee is the chance that the man might some day become president. That thought was very much in mind when Wallace's nomination was asked for.

Secretary Reports Recent Activities Of Birthday Club

Friends will read with interest the following news of the Friendship Birthday Club, kindly submitted by the secretary, Mrs. C. C. Jurek.

The inactivities of the Friendship Birthday Club during the earlier part of the summer owing to illness and other legitimate reasons, were largely compensated for by two splendid celebrations held in rapid succession.

The first was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Erickson during the month of June, while she was absent visiting relatives in Chicago, and after her return home 15 members of the Birthday Club assembled for a belated celebration. A delicious buffet luncheon was served at one o'clock. The afternoon was delightfully spent, first with a short business meeting, then with visiting and fancy work and ice cream and cake were served before the guests departed.

The second delightful affair occurred July 17 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Giltinan. This was in honor of the birthdays of Mrs. Hilda Johnson and Mrs. Alice Plowright, whose birthdays occurred in April, and the birthdays of Mrs. Anna Coppenhofer and Mrs. Margaret Giltinan Keach which occurred in May.

The outstanding feature of this party was a chicken dinner to which all did ample justice. After partaking of the delicious repast a business meeting was held after which the time was spent visiting. Those present were Mrs. Carrie Giltinan, hostess, and honor guests Mrs. Hilda Johnson, Mrs. Alice Plowright, Mrs. Anna Coppenhofer, and Mrs. Margaret Keach. Other guests were Mrs. Florence El-Minnie Gage, Mrs. Lida Lounsbury, Mrs. Edith Tremaine, Mrs. Olive Jury, Mrs. Mildred Peterson, Mrs. Maria Erickson, Mrs. Mabel Gardner, all club members, also Mrs. Anna Hansen, Bradford; Mrs. Mabel Brannard and Mrs. Anna Nelson of this place. Several young people were also present.

Having members for the month of August the September party is next in order and will be held at Gardner's hall, Lounsbury's Corners, in Elk township, on Wednesday, September 4, in honor of the following birthdays: September 4, Mrs. Belle Chalmers; September 7, Mrs. Minnie Gage; September 28, Mrs. Mabel Gardner. All members are especially urged to be present as a most enjoyable time is anticipated.

Challenge to U. S. Designers Brings Such Lovely Creations for Milady

These youthfully smart dinner gowns are the type of clothes which Mary Lewis, famous stylist, thinks American designers do well and will do a great deal better, now that they must think for themselves instead of depending on Paris. The dress at left is of black taffeta, the other of suave black crepe.

Let Your Doctor Do the Prescribing

BY PAUL BRAUNSCHWEIGER of the Walling Group Co.

Because the druggist is trained in medicine, there is a tendency on the part of the public to ask him advice in matters of health. The honest pharmacist will not prescribe for illness. It is not his job. It is the doctor's job to consider each case through individual diagnosis. There are always contributing factors in any illness which must be considered. No case can be treated as if it were a standard condition.

Don't ask your druggist to advise you how to treat illness of an undetermined nature. Consult a capable medical man for diagnosis, refer his prescription to the skilled druggist.

Secretary Reports Recent Activities Of Birthday Club

Friends will read with interest the following news of the Friendship Birthday Club, kindly submitted by the secretary, Mrs. C. C. Jury:

The inactivities of the Friendship Birthday Club during the earlier part of the summer owing to illness and other legitimate reasons, were largely compensated for by two splendid celebrations held in rapid succession.

The first was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Erickson. Mrs. Erickson's birthday occurred during the month of June, while she was absent visiting relatives in Chicago, and after her return home 15 members of the Birthday Club assembled for a belated celebration. A delicious buffet luncheon was served at one o'clock. The afternoon was delightfully spent, first with a short business meeting, then with visiting and fancy work and ice cream and cake were served before the guests departed.

The second delightful affair occurred July 17 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Giltinan. This was in honor of the birthdays of Mrs. Hilda Johnson and Mrs. Alice Plowright, whose birthdays occurred in April, and the birthdays of Mrs. Anna Coppenhoefer and Mrs. Margaret Giltinan Keach which occurred in May.

The outstanding feature of this party was a chicken dinner to which all did ample justice. After partaking of the delicious repast a business meeting was held after which the time was spent visiting. Those present were Mrs. Carrie Giltinan, hostess, and honor guests Mrs. Hilda Johnson, Mrs. Alice Plowright, Mrs. Anna Coppenhoefer, and Mrs. Margaret Keach. Mrs. Katie Lounsbury, Mrs. Belle Chalmers, Mrs. Parepa Wholeben, Mrs. Minnie Gage, Mrs. Florence Elberg, Mrs. Lida Lounsbury, Mrs. Ethel Tremaine, Mrs. Olive Jury, Mrs. Mildred Peterson, Mrs. Maria Erickson, Mrs. Mabel Gardner, all club members, also Mrs. Anna Hansen, Bradford; Mrs. Mabel Brainard and Mrs. Anna Nelson, of this place. Several young people were also present, bringing the total attendance up to 24.

Having no members for the month of August, the September party is next in order and will be held at Gardner's hall, Lounsbury's Corners, in Elk township, on Wednesday, September 4, in honor of the following birthdays: September 4, Mrs. Belle Chalmers; September 7, Mrs. Minnie Gage; September 28, Mrs. Mabel Gardner. All members are especially urged to be present as a most enjoyable time is anticipated.

Family Reunions

PASCO REUNION

A program was enjoyed and in the early evening, ice cream and cake were served. Friends and relatives were in attendance from Warren, Akeley, Jamestown and Salamanca.

BY WM. E. MCKENNEY,

America's Card Authority
Today's hand presents another example of the defensive echo. Let me stress that you cannot just pull a card out of your hand. The play of the cards is a language which can speak for you, if you play them in the proper rotation. Though South had bid hearts, West made the correct opening. South won with the heart queen and returned with the queen of diamonds. West properly played the six-spot, to show his partner that he had only two diamonds. East refused to win and a diamond was continued.

At this point East had a pretty good count of declarer's hand. He knew that South held two more diamonds and at least four hearts originally, so that in all probability, to continue hearts would be hopeless. South must have at least two spades for his no trump bid, therefore there was little likelihood of establishing tricks in the spade suit. Thus, by counting the hand down, East realized that his correct play was to switch to clubs, and the lead of the ten-spot wrecked declarer's contract.

INVESTIGATE DYNAMITE
Wilkes-Barre, July 23—(P)—Discovery of five sticks of dynamite beneath a pavilion where more than 2,000 persons attended a picnic Saturday was under extensive investigation by police here today. An earlier blast of an exploder which ripped up several boards sent authorities to the scene.

Mining is the chief occupation in three South American countries; copper in Peru; tin and copper in Bolivia, and nitrates and copper in Chile.

The honored guests were the recipients of numerous attractive gifts and many congratulatory messages. Besides the honored couple, those attending the dinner were Jack Reid and Margaret Reid, Oil City; Jean Reid Goldsborough and two children, Narbeth; Mrs. Meredith Hamilton, Porterville, Calif.; Mrs. Nell J. Caldwell, Commander and Mrs. A. C. Dysart, Corydon.

LEAF SPOTS NOT SIGN OF DEATH OF SHADE TREES

Harrisburg—Leaf spots on shade and ornamental trees are evidence of a leaf disease but do not indicate that the trees are dying, Chas. E. Baer, Deputy Secretary of the Department of Forests and Waters, said today.

A leaf-blight of the sycamore, white oak and maple, known as anthracnose disease, is especially abundant throughout the State this summer. Leaf diseases are usually caused by a species of fungi and become numerous during wet seasons. They are characterized by the formation of dead areas which vary in size, shape and color in the tissues of various tree leaves. The dead sections sometimes fall out and result in holes or the leaves may be killed entirely and appear as if they are frost killed. Leaf spot diseases are rarely the primary cause of a tree dying but the decreased green leaf area, which is the food manufacturing portion of the tree, results in the reduction of growth and nutrient. Control measures to prevent repeated defoliations are sometimes advisable. All leaves which fall from the affected trees should be raked together and burned. Dead and cankered branches and twigs should be pruned before the buds burst in spring. Three low in vigor can be aided by soil fertilization, especially during the spring months.

"For valuable trees, spraying with freshly made Bordeaux mixture will protect the leaves from infection," Baer said. "Little or no benefit can be expected from spraying after considerable infection has taken place. The first application should be made about the time the new leaves appear in the spring and the second about one week later. If the season is unusually rainy, three and four applications may be advisable at intervals of two weeks."

LAST CIGARET
Hazleton July 23—(P)—Andrew Fedencz, 61, Highland sat in a chair in the kitchen of his home placed a stick of dynamite on his chest and calmly touched it off with a cigarette. Fedencz, an unemployed miner, was killed instantly by the blast.

Visits to Great National Shrines of the Country Urged by Automobile Association

(Special correspondence to the Times-Mirror)

Washington, D. C., July 23—With millions of motorists either now on the move or planning their tours for "Travel America Year," the American Automobile Association strongly urged today that visits to one or more of the country's great national shrines be included in itineraries.

This new keynote of travel for 1940 was sounded by Thomas P. Henry, of Detroit, Michigan, President of the national motoring body.

Mr. Henry pointed out that the new national defense program had not been launched when President Roosevelt issued his "Travel America Year" proclamation and added that the defense program had everything to gain and nothing to lose from closer contacts by the people with the great landmarks of American history.

"Not battlefields, nor armies, nor airplanes, but love of country and devotion to its traditions constitute our front line of defense," Mr. Henry declared. He said in part: "With the country gearing itself to a mammoth defense program, 'Travel America Year' is a most appropriate time to pay a visit to those places that have played a significant part in the establishment of our democracy.

"The government is now engaged in a huge project designed to strengthen our material defenses. The success of this program is largely dependent on the loyalty and determination of the people.

"A splendid way to revive and strengthen the personal sense of patriotism is to visit one or several of our national historic parks, battlefields, and monuments. Visitors to the scenes of the hardships and triumphs of our forebears never fail to experience a surge of pride in our accomplishments, and a feeling of thankfulness that they are permitted to carry on and protect the principles of justice and freedom which are the foundation of the nation.

"The historical areas administered by the Department of Interior are many in number and varied in type but each is a memorial to a significant event in the chronicle of America. Among the more important are the Colonial National Historical Park, Gettysburg National Military Park, Fort McHenry, Fort Mifflin National Battlefield Site, House Where Lincoln Died, Federal Hall Memorial (inauguration of Washington as first president), and Vicksburg National Cemetery. Already the number of visitors to these areas is running far ahead of last year. Attendance at Fort McHenry, inspiration for 'The Star Spangled Banner' is more than 60 per cent above 1939, while practically all other monuments and military parks have shown marked gains. It is to be hoped that this trend will become even more pronounced throughout the remainder of the travel season."

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — We asked Billy Rose what he thought about the peep-show side of showbusiness, and he became so articulate that we asked him to put all his ideas down on paper and send them over to us. They arrived this morning, by one of Mr. Parley's boys, and they express his view so well that it seems a good idea to pass his note along, as received. Here it is:

"The sheriff has taken over the G-string, and most American sheikhs aren't daddies. I mean that nudity as a form of entertainment is now practically bankrupt in this country. The female form divine, as the boys used to call it, has been at out of business not by any blue-nose laws but by the much more drastic and ruthless laws of economics—The laws of supply and demand.

"If there are any dividends left in nakedness or dirt on the stage, they are microscopic. Big dividends are paid only by clean shows. If you want proof, look at burlesque, the sleep-walker of show business. Time was when big burlesque circuits operated from coast to coast, and stripping, accompanied by purple gags, was one of the most prosperous branches of the amusement industry. All that's left now are a few theatres that, at most, gross $5,000 a week—hardly exciting show-shop receipts.

"THE most convincing evidence of the ill health of burlesque is that it is almost exclusively patronized by a male audience—a crowd of paste-faced fellows who sneak furtively into the nudist-in-the-raw museums, keep on their hats, spit in the aisles, make assorted weird noises and then sneak out again. If there's one thing I have learned in 20 years on Broadway and in the honky-tonks it is that, in America, the women do the buying, and male not only buys the sheets for the bed and the meat and vegetables for the soup, but she buys the family's entertainment, too.

Another proof of the decline of the crass commercial appeal to sex is the failure of peep-shows at the New York World's Fair. In 1939, there were quite a few of these establishments on the midway at Flushing and none of them did well enough to keep a medium-sized bird alive. The Crystal Palace, which had several nudes—and I mean nudes!—played to no business. N. T. G.'s Congress of Beauty, a super peep-show with more than 50 lovely gals in their birthday suits, folded in the middle of the season. An enterprise called "Ecstasy" also made a poor showing and "The Dream of Venus," a peep-show disguised as a surrealist art outburst, put its sponsors into a $50,000 hole. Altogether, a little more than $500,000 was invested on last year's New York midway in situations to house nude shows that no one came to see.

"NOW, in the old days, naked lady emporiums were among the most heavily patronized hooplies in American fair grounds. What has happened to change the situation? Has the average American become squeamish? Or has he lost a natural and wholesome interest in the opposite sex? Neither, of course, is true. What has happened is that there are no rubes any more. Well, hardly any. The few who survive are the handful of showmen who still imagine that Americans want to shell out a quartic to look at a bandy-legged naked woman."

NO FEAR OF RYEGRASS GIVING TROUBLE LATER

Warren county farmers interested in the use of ryegrass as a cover crop to be sown in corn or truck crops sometimes inquire whether it may prove a nuisance in later years.

County Agent O. C. Tritt dispels all fears by saying that "there seems to be little danger of this, also small chance of getting bad weeds in ryegrass seed." If ryegrass is allowed to go to seed on a field, some of the seeds may come up later but there is not much more chance of their causing serious trouble than a crop of "fall grass" let go to seed.

Ryegrass heads look much like those of quack grass, and some farmers have confused the two. Mr. Tritt explains that they are easily distinguished. In quack grass, the spikelet is set on the stem sideways, as are the spikelets in a head of wheat or rye. The spikelets of ryegrass are set on the stem edgewise.

The reason that quack grass is a bad weed is because of the heavy running roots which are almost impossible to kill and which are dragged and scattered by harrows and cultivators. Ryegrass can reproduce only by seed. It has a fibrous root system without runners, and when plowed down should be killed just as completely as timothy.

In plowing a cover crop of ryegrass, it will be much more necessary to have a jointer on the plow than in plowing bare ground. Without a jointer, some of the grass may not be turned completely under and this, of course, may continue to grow and go up to seed. Even that possibility is nothing to worry about.

As to getting bad weeds in domestic ryegrass seed, while quack grass and Canada thistle occur in Oregon where ryegrass seed is produced, they are relatively rare, especially the quack grass. If Canada thistle is present, the fact is reported in the purity test on the tag. Files of the seed analyst at Harrisburg show no serious weeds in any samples of ryegrass seed submitted.

FREEDOM AND EXERCISE NEEDED BY DAIRY SIRE

Experience during the past 20 years of cooperative bull association work in Pennsylvania has taught that freedom and exercise are of prime importance in keeping the dairy sire in good service condition, reports County Agent O. C. Tritt. Nearly 400 bulls are in use in these associations.

The individually owned bull often is kept tied in a stall or the darkest corner of the barn. The older he gets the more chains he has tied around his neck.

In the bull association the aim is to keep the bull in a more natural setting. Exercise yards large enough to allow the bull to take a walk are recommended. The bull is given access to such pens both day and night the year around.

Often bulls that were kept tied in the barn and, as a result, failed in service, have soon recovered normal breeding condition after getting the freedom of an exercise yard.

SUMMER CULTIVATION BEST WHEN SHALLOW

Root systems of vegetables vary in different seasons, according to County Agent O. C. Tritt.

During seasons, such as 1940, when rainfall is plentiful and timely, vegetables do not develop large root systems. In dry seasons, roots grow farther laterally and vertically.

Since vegetables are shallow-rooted plants which produce most of their roots in the plowed area where soil is loose and fertility most plentiful, Mr. Tritt, says that cultivation must be shallow, one to two inches, and frequent enough to control weeds and maintain a surface mulch.

LEAF SPOTS NOT SIGN OF DEATH OF SHADE TREES

Harrisburg—Leaf spots on shade and ornamental trees are evidence of a leaf disease but do not indicate that the trees are dying. Chas. E. Baer, Deputy Secretary of the Department of Forests and Waters, said today.

A leaf-blight of the sycamore, white oak and maple, known as anthracnose disease, is especially abundant throughout the State this summer. Leaf diseases are usually caused by a species of fungi and become numerous during wet seasons. They are characterized by the formation of dead areas which vary in size, shape and color in the tissues of various tree leaves. The dead sections sometimes fall out and result in holes or the leaves may be killed entirely and appear as if they are frost killed. Leaf spot diseases are rarely the primary cause of a tree dying but the decreased green leaf area, which is the food manufacturing portion of the tree, results in the reduction of growth and nutriment. Control measures to prevent repeated defoliations are sometimes advisable. All leaves which fall from the affected trees should be raked together and burned. Dead and cankered branches and twigs should be pruned before the buds burst in spring. Three low in vigor can be aided by soil fertilization, especially during the spring months.

"For valuable trees, spraying with freshly made Bordeaux mixture will protect the leaves from infection," Baer said. "Little or no benefit can be expected from spraying after considerable infection has taken place. The first application should be made about the time the new leaves appear in the spring and the second about one week later. If the season is unusually rainy, three and four applications may be advisable at intervals of two weeks."

Visits to Great National Shrines of the Country Urged by Automobile Association

(Special correspondence to the Times-Mirror)

Washington, D. C., July 23.—With millions of motorists either now on the move or planning their tours for "Travel America Year," the American Automobile Association strongly urged today that visits to one or more of the country's great national shrines be included in itineraries.

This new keynote of travel for 1940 was sounded by Thomas P. Henry, of Detroit, Michigan, President of the national motoring body.

Mr. Henry pointed out that the new national defense program had not been launched when President Roosevelt issued his "Travel America Year" proclamation and added that the defense program had everything to gain and nothing to lose from closer contacts by the people with the great landmarks of American history.

"Not battleships, nor armies, nor airplanes, but love of country and devotion to its traditions constitute our front line of defense," Mr. Henry declared. He said in part: "With the country gearing itself to a mammoth defense program, 'Travel America Year' is a most appropriate time to pay a visit to those places that have played a significant part in the establishment of our democracy.

"The government is now engaged in a huge project designed to strengthen our material defenses. The success of this program is largely dependent on the loyalty and determination of the people.

"A splendid way to revive and strengthen the personal sense of patriotism is to visit one or several of our national historic parks, battlefields, and monuments. Visitors to the scenes of the hardships and triumphs of our forebears never fail to experience a surge of pride in our accomplishments, and a feeling of thankfulness that they are permitted to carry on and protect the principles of justice and freedom which are the foundation of the nation.

"The historical areas administered by the Department of Interior are many in number and varied in type but each is a memorial to a significant event in the chronicle of America. Among the more important are the Colonial National Historical Park, Gettysburg National Military Park, Fort McHenry, Fort Mifflin National Battlefield Site, House Where Lincoln Died, Federal Hall Memorial (inauguration of Washington as first president), and Vicksburg National Cemetery. Already the number of visitors to these areas is running far ahead of last year. Attendance at Fort McHenry, inspiration for the Star Spangled Banner, is more than 60 per cent above 1939, while practically all other monuments and military parks have shown marked gains. It is to be hoped that this trend will become even more pronounced throughout the remainder of the travel season."

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — We asked Billy Rose what he thought about the peep-show side of showbusiness, and he became so articulate that we asked him to put all his ideas down on paper and send them over to us. They arrived this morning, by one of Mr. Farley's boys, and they express his view so well that it seems a good idea to pass his note along, as received. Here it is:

"The sheriff has taken over the G-string, and most American sheriffs aren't fiddle players. I mean that nudity as a form of entertainment is now practically bankrupt in this country. 'The female form divine' as the boys used to call it has been, at out of business not by any blue-nose laws but by the much more drastic and ruthless laws of economics—the laws of supply and demand. "If there are any dividends left in nakedness or dirt on the stage, they are microscopic. Big dividends are paid only by clean shows. If you want proof, look at burlesque, the sleep-walker of show business. Time was when big burlesque circuits operated from coast to coast, and stripping, accompanied by purple gags, was one of the most prosperous branches of the amusement industry. All that's left now are a few theatres that, at most, gross $3,000 a week—hardly exciting show-shop receipts.

"THE most convincing evidence of the ill health of burlesque is that it is almost exclusively patronized by a male audience—a crowd of puffy-faced fellows who sneak furtively into the maiden-in-the-rat museums, keep on their hats, spit in the aisles, make assorted weird noises and then

sneak out again. If there's one thing I have learned in 20 years on Broadway and in the honky-tonks it is that, in America, the women do the buying, and mama not only buys the sheets for the bed and the meat and vegetables for the soup, but she buys the family's entertainment, too.

Another proof of the decline of the crass commercial appeal to sex is the failure of peep-shows at the New York World's Fair. In 1939, there were quite a few of those establishments on the midway at Flushing and none of them did well enough to keep a medium-sized bird alive. The Crystal Palace, which had several nudes—and I mean nudes!—played to no business. N. T. Altogether, a little more than $500,000 was invested on last year's New York midway in structures to house nude shows that no one came to see.

"NOW, in the old days, naked lady emporiums were among the most heavily patronized hooplalas in American fair grounds. What has happened to change the situation? The Cincinnati Reds and Brooklyn Dodgers bump headlong into another "showdown" series today with the National League championship hanging in the balance.

For Brooklyn, at least, the doubleheader today and the night game tomorrow loomed as the most vital tests of the season. The Reds are racing along at an almost unbelievable pace with 14 victories in their last 16 games.

If Cincinnati is going to be kept from repeating in the senior circuit, this winning streak will have to be curbed quickly.

The champs took the New York Giants apart in three games over the weekend, dropping them 11 full games behind first place and apparently out of pennant contention for the rest of the year.

This put the task of sidetracking the Reds squarely up to the Dodgers themselves, and the prospect was not too promising, even for ardent Flatbush fans.

The two rivals have met in five series this season, dividing the scales evenly, and when the scales finally tilted, it was in Cincinnati's direction. The Reds beat Brooklyn two games out of three in Crosley Field a few days ago, helping put the Dodgers on the skids that brought them home today five games behind the lead.

The Dodgers won only six games and lost eight during their recent western invasion.

The big attraction in the American League will be the effort of the Detroit Tigers to protect the lead they picked up while away from their lair.

For their first opposition at home they draw the Washington Senators, who suddenly have become dangerous.

Both major leagues shifted scenery yesterday, an open date, and came up for new intersectional stands today.

SEABRIGHT NET TOURNEY CALLS NATION'S STARS

Seabright, N. J., July 23—(P)—Six of the nation's first 10 men tennis players and the same number of top-flight women racket swingers are slated to get into the battle for the historic Seabright bowls today.

In the men's competition, defending champion Frankie Parker of Pasadena, Ore.; Elwood T. Cooke of Portland, Ore.; Bryan M. Grant, Jr., Atlanta; Welby Van Horn, Los Angeles; Gilbert Hunt, Jr., Washington, D. C.; and Henry Prusoff, Miami, Fla., will meet second round tests.

Alice Marble, national women's champion, will meet Millicent Hirsch, most improved New Yorker; Sarah Palfrey of Brookline, Mass., No. 3 in the national rankings, will clash with Mary Arnold of Los Angeles, and the defending Seabright title holder, Helen Bernard of New York, will be tested by the veteran Caroline Babcock of New York.

National Champion Bobby Riggs of Chicago was a big step ahead of the field today after taking three sets to dispose of Chauncey D. Steele, Jr., of New York, in an advanced second round match yesterday.

Riggs won the prolonged duel, 6-6, 5-7, 6-2.

On the sidelines were former National Champion Helen Jacobs of Berkeley, three of four seeded women of foreign lands, and veterans Francis X. Shields of New York and Johnny Van Ryn of Houston. Miss Jacobs was forced to relinquish hope of adding a fourth Seabright title to her list by recurrence of an old shoulder muscle injury.

Shields and Van Ryn went down after torrid three-set battles. G. Lytleton-Rogers of Ireland eliminated Van Ryn, who had been virtually out of grass court competition for two years, 6-2, 6-3.

Twenty-three-year-old Gerard Podesta of Montclair, N. J., accounted for Shields' exit, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4.

The many local Pittsburgh rooters will be interested to learn that Long John Gee, who refused to report to the Albany Senators, where he was ordered on option by the Buccos, is in seclusion at a Vermont camp, rounding his arm into shape under the tutelage of his former college coach, Ray Fisher. Gee said before leaving Syracuse over the week-end that he was unable to pitch immediately for the Senators and would not join the club until his arm was in shape. Gee brought a very fancy price when purchased by the Buccos last year, and it's probable that the Pirate management would be glad to invest a little more if it was thought Johnny's salary wing would respond to treatment.

You said it! . . . Our scheduled match with Marshall, Peebles and Martin has been postponed again. . . They square off in Scranton. . . ### Last Word in Reply To Hitler's Appeal Spoken by Halifax

(From Page One)

"These air attacks show that Churchill wants to demonstrate to the German people what he regards as a proper answer" to Hitler's last chance offer of a Nazi-dictated peace.

The news agency said R. A. F. bombers had killed civilians in Bremen, Hamburg, Wismar and Schwerin, while other attacks were directed at Kassel, Hanover, Pinnerberg, Paderborn, Hagen and Bochum.

DNB said the British airmen were aided by good visibility and also dropped flares to light their targets, yet nevertheless hit residential districts.

Authorized Nazis said Germany now is stepping up the tempo of its air and naval bombardments against Britain daily, preparing for a general offensive with a wholesale landing of troops on English soil.

Japan's expansion-minded cabinet ministers set a course of "diplomatic blitzkrieg" patterned on Hitler methods, and spoke of "the day when Japan can share the world with Germany and Italy."

The British government prepared to dip even deeper into the pockets of her people to meet the increasing cost of the war.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Kingsley Wood presented a supplementary emergency war budget to the House of Commons this afternoon to raise about $3,000,000,000—possibly half of it by taxation.

German warplanes this morning bombed British points from the Thames estuary to Wales and north to Scotland, but the government announced little damage and no fatalities resulted.

Through Secretary of State Cordell Hull, the United States yesterday outlined defense and economic plans for the western hemisphere and at the same time President Roosevelt asked congress to provide $500,000,000 for the import-export bank for financing and marketing their surpluses.

Reaction seemed favorable among most of the delegates, but the attitude of Argentina remained an important question mark of the conference.

Rumania's foreign minister will confer Friday with Foreign Minister von Ribbentrop of Germany for advice on a reported note from Soviet Russia asking that Rumania form a "popular government." To win the favor of the axis powers, Rumania already has seated a one-party government of Nazi pattern.

POISON REMOVED

In its natural state, the root of the bitter cassava is poisonous. Long ago, South American Indians learned how to render the root harmless and cassava bread has been a staple food of the Brazilian jungles for years. Today, tapioca is made from the root.

Vice President, Leaving For Texas, Asks the Right to Change Mind

ped in Garner's offices just before train time for a chat.

A class, who at 82 is the eldest senator, like Garner, openly opposed a third term. N. Rris, 78, advocates Mr. Roosevelt's reelection.

"I'm going home and live to be 92 years old," the 71-year-old vice president was reported to have told the two senate elders.

Another caller was Zeke Bonura, first baseman on the Washington baseball team and a favorite of Garner, who has spent many afternoons watching the Washington Senators at Griffith Stadium.

Bonura was sold to Chicago yesterday, and the vice president joked him: "You're an ex-Senator now."

Wearing his usual broad-brimmed light gray hat and pulling at a thick cigar, the vice president chatted with reporters at the station.

But there was "no news" either on the third term or Garner's plans. Whether he will return for the remainder of the congressional session appeared to be anybody's guess.

PRESIDENT OF MAYTAG IS DEAD AT NEWTON

Newton, Ia., July 23—(P)—

Funeral services for Elmer H. Maytag, 56, will be held tomorrow afternoon in the First Methodist church—and will be heard in five other churches through public address systems.

Maytag, president of the Maytag Washing Machine Company, the city's leading industry, died Saturday.

Virtually all business activity in the community will come to a standstill during the funeral. The public address system will enable more persons to hear the services than would be possible if it were confined to a single church.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

Pittsburgh, July 23—(P)—

C. V. Blatz, 35, of Turtle Creek, was crushed to death today between two Union Railroad cars at the Homestead works of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation. He was a brakeman for the railroad, a subsidiary of Carnegie-Illinois.

The Continental Divide runs through New Mexico, Colorado and Wyoming and forms the boundary between Idaho and Montana.

U. S. Plan Received Attention

(From Page One)

Other speakers, however, generally supported Secretary Hull's version of dangers besetting the new world because of aggressive military and economic methods on other continents.

Hull, seemingly undisturbed by the Argentine position similar to that at the Lima conference in 1938, moved ahead with drafting of resolutions embodying his government's proposals.

The resolutions were prepared for study by commissions assigned to specific subjects.

Hull clearly was receptive to modification to incorporate the views of other governments. He hoped the resolutions thus would emerge as the recommendations of the full commissions as a step toward the unanimity which he sought as proof of continental solidarity.

President Roosevelt's recommendation that the lending power of the Export-Import bank be increased by $500,000,000 brought support for Hull's promise of United States financial aid to relieve pressing economic problems of some of the Latin American nations.

What Argentina and some of the others wanted to know before entering any commitments on hemisphere economy or defense was the specific application of measures to their own problems.

In Buenos Aires, livestock breeders and grain planters responsible for 45 per cent of Argentina's agricultural output adopted last night a resolution opposing any western hemisphere export cartel as a big stick in the hands of United States producers, "our direct competitors."

At the same time, as compensating benefits for economic aid, the United States sought support for other measures dealing with the future of European colonies in the western hemisphere and subversive activities within the republics.

Hull's plan to circumvent acquisition of new world colonies by foreign powers was a collective trusteeship by all the 21 American republic until these colonies either could be restored to their "original sovereign" or become independent.

His economic formulas called both for immediate relief to countries burdened with large export surpluses and for long-range development of an economic system sufficient strong to withstand possible pressure from policies of European or other powers.

Extended negotiation on some phases was foreseen, probably through the inter-American economic and advisory committee, but the need for immediate action to relax some of the economic strain was recognized in Hull's program.

Berlin, July 23—(P)—The United States was declared by the officially inspired Dienst Aus Deutschland today to be aiming at the Havana meeting of American foreign ministers to "establish a sort of protectorate over the entire American continent, especially over South American countries."

So apparent are these efforts, according to the news commentary, that Secretary of State Cordell Hull "himself deemed it necessary to deny all thoughts of such hegemony."

Havana, July 23—(P)—Bolivia is planning to present to the present Pan-American conference a vast plan for a "continental defense" railway which would run from Santos, Brazil, to Arica, Chile, via Bolivia.

The old customs house at Monterey, Calif., was built under the successive rules of three nations—Spain, Mexico and the United States.

SOLOIST TO BE FEATURED WITH VETERANS' BAND

An interesting but popular program has been planned for the "neighborhood" band concert to be given at 7:30 tomorrow evening by the Veterans of Foreign Wars band on the steps of Warren's municipal building.

For the first time this season the band will present a vocal soloist, Edmund C. Snyder, well-known Warren tenor, who will sing a popular ballad, "The Sunshine of Your Smile." Mr. Snyder has been heard locally with a number of organizations. He is at present a member of the First Presbyterian church choir, and has also sung in the First Lutheran and St. Paul's Lutheran choirs. He also has sung with the Mendelssohn Chorus and the Community Choir Conference chorus. He was a pupil of the late Prof. A. J. Mooney.

Among the best known of the numbers the band will play is the Hungarian Fantasia by Tobani, a work typical of Hungarian gypsy music. Another tuneful number, but one not heard so often, is the Wedding Ring Overture by the American composer, George D. Barnard. Also to be heard is the pleasing Intermezzo Gavotte by Joseph DeLuca, who was formerly the euphonium soloist with Sousa's band.

These concerts are entirely free to the public and seats will be provided for those in attendance.

WARM UP

Cochran, July 23.—(P)—Warming up for next month's extensive maneuvers, the Pittsburgh battalion of the 107th field artillery, Pennsylvania National Guard, went into action along French creek during the weekend. Four batteries, including 75 millimeter guns, unleashed an artillery barrage under cover of an anti-aircraft attack smoke screen. There were 200 guardsmen and 70 pieces of mechanized equipment in the sham battle.

Casual Slaughters

By VIRGINIA HANSON

YESTERDAY, Gerald takes Kay and Julia to dinner "to do a good deed of detecting." They discuss Felicia's nearly blind six-year-old niece who visited her in June. Jokingly Gerald nominates Felicia for suspect number one.

Chapter 27

'Fringy'

"My cherie is Chaplain Henry," Julia said elegantly. "He's such a dear little dumpling, the kind that always murders his wife in the bathtub and buries her in the back yard. Of course, he's a bachelor—"

"Wait!" I interrupted. "I think you've got something there. Did you hear Sandra say she had known him in Texas? He's probably secretly in love with her and simply follows her around disposing of all his rivals—the cave-man lover, you know."

Julia was giving me an exceedingly dirty look, and for a minute I couldn't think why, until Gerald observed innocently:

"But wouldn't you think it would have been Jeff instead of Ivan? Do you suppose he made a mistake in the dark?"

"Oh, Jeff's probably next on the list," I said airily, to cover my slip. "Maybe a long list, for all you know. You guys better watch your step with Sandra," I added darkly.

Gerald appeared to shudder. "Men are such brutes, my dear. But I'm sure I don't know why you're warning me." He put a hand to the back of his head and ran a finger through its closely cut sandy stubble. "Look, girls, I'm thinking of letting my hair grow—or do you like it better the way I'm wearing it?"

Julia put her head on one side. "A cluster of curls on top would suit your heart-shaped face," she said judiciously. "On the other hand, Geraldine, your neck is a little long—"

"Column of alabaster," he said, smirking. "Silly, isn't it? But that's what they tell me."

"My cherie is a very phony young man named Beaufort," I observed sternly. "Just look at him in that mirror, sitting there, playing the fool, trying to make a couple of unsuspecting females tell all. Julia, don't mention your father's invention—you know, the death ray. He's probably in the pay of some foreign power. Julia, that young man is deep!"

Gerald leaned forward and scrutinized his reflection anxiously.

"I'll wager you say that to all the girls," he complained, straightening his tie. But I had not missed the sudden sharp look from under those absurd eyelashes. For an instant a breath of fear dissipated the rosy cloud of contentment around me.

"And when does he drift in?" I babbled on, hoping he did not know I had seen that sharp look. "The day—the very day, mind you, that the chaplain was attacked. And how does he account for himself? He says, mind you, that he's a boot salesman. Now I ask you, Julia, is that likely? Is it plausible? Have you seen him sell a boot? I haven't!"

"To think you've been holding that against me!" Gerald marveled. "Tomorrow as ever was you shall come to my humble showroom, you shall see the whole complicated scientific procedure—nay, you shall even order a pair for those delectable extremities which I have been unable to avoid noticing. I, Gerald Beaufort in person, shall serve you. That is a chore I never delegate to a subordinate. It's always a pleasure the ladies to measure—"

"Ersters," breathed Julia fervently.

Hard-Faced Man

GERALD inserted his imaginary monocle and blinked at her. "Have I been detecting something?" he asked hopefully. "I always thought the word was 'nerts.'"

"No, no! You misunderstand me. I mean 'erstes,' actually, in the flesh. Don't you see the waiter approaching?"

"Is that all you see?" I asked dreamily. "I see approaching, from the opposite direction, a grim-visaged male who eats with his knife and sleeps in his clothes. Hold your breath, Julia, I think we're about to become a four-some."

It was Monday night. Fieldstone Inn was not crowded. Facing the door, I had noticed this solitary diner arrive and seat himself across the room from us—a hard-faced but not unattractive man in his late thirties, with the eyes of one who had seen much and never expected to be surprised again. Those eyes had inspected me without perceptible change, had lingered for a moment on Julia's half-averted face, and traveled on to Gerald's profile. Now he was coming toward us.

A hand descended on Gerald's shoulder.

"Fancy meeting you here," drawled a husky voice, and I thought I detected a gleam of triumph in the imperturbable eyes.

Gerald looked up, his face as blank as a mask.

"Frightfully sorry, old chap," he said pleasantly. "Never saw you before in my life. Dare say it was a couple of other fellows."

"Not with those eyelashes," the man said with a malevolent grin. "Come on, Fringy, give."

"Ah! These eyelashes? Now that's where you're wrong! One dollar a set—you can have them yourself, old fellow, and no end of an improvement, if you don't mind my saying so. Said to sharpen the eyesight, too. Look—tell you what I'll do. Give you the address."

He whipped a tiny flat notebook and a pencil from his breast pocket and scribbled briefly, tore off the sheet and pressed it into the stranger's hand.

"Just say Geraldine sent you. No, I—don't thank me! Only too glad to spread a little beauty in a bleak world—"

The stranger glanced briefly at the paper he held and his face closed like a trap.

"O.K., Geraldine, do as much for you sometime. Sorry I dropped the brick. I see now you're not the guy. It's those eyelashes—better cut them, they'll get you into trouble one day."

Gerald grinned. "Just what I was telling the girls," he said innocently. He fanned a hand vaguely at the man, a gesture that seemed to mean "Scram!" At least the stranger departed. He went back to his table, to his waiting plate, and concentrated on feeding but not with his knife. As far as I could see thereafter, his gaze did not drift our way.

"Now that, Geraldine, was downright piggyish," Julia protested. "Anyone with half a wit could see the poor fellow was lonesome, and you sitting here smugly with two glamour girls. You might at least have pretended to know him."

"I'm surprised at you, Julia. My grandmother, he added virtuously, "made me promise never to take up with strange men."

Strange? I lowered my eyes to my plate so that he would not see the disbelief in them. I felt a little sick.

Delicate Mission

JULIA and Gerald began to wrangle amiably over the wisdom of consuming the firstysters of the season in a month without an r, but she disposed of the whole question.

"It's all right. We put the r in the ersters, which makes it perfectly safe," she pronounced, and popped one calmly into her mouth.

It was not until we had finished our meal and Gerald had lavishly ordered a Courvoisier brandy that he returned to the subject of Adam's commission.

"I've always wanted to do a spot of detecting," he confessed cheerfully, swirling the amber fluid in its tiny glass. "Kay, here, is a very discerning young person—very discerning indeed. Yes, I think I may say that I am deep; though not even, mind you, would have the wit or the courage to probe beneath my light and airy persiflage to the dark and secret recesses of the man's mysterious mind. Adam is discerning, too. He saw at once that I was unusual," he continued modestly. "That, I am sure, is why he trusted me to execute this delicate mission."

He paused impressively. "What delicate mission?" demanded Julia impatiently. "The trouble with you, Geraldine, you have Saint Vitus dance of the vocal chords—they're always in motion but they don't get you anywhere."

Gerald looked at her coldly. "Not discerning person," he decided. He turned his shoulder to her and addressed me confidentially. "Now you, Kay, will comprehend at once the delicacy of the task which has been set me."

It was impossible not to laugh at the fool. Scrap by scrap we got it out of him. On the way to the inn that morning, Adam had recalled the simple fact that the chaplain had booked his drive from Chicago by dining at Fieldstone Inn; and that it was there he had picked up his unpleasant passenger. There was a remote possibility that someone at the Inn might have seen the mysterious pedestrian—might know his identity, or at least be able to give a better description than the chaplain. Adam had asked Gerald to make inquiries.

Such was the delicate mission. We discussed possible procedures; but our combined intellects seemed unable to devise any startling departures in the realm of crime detection. Something, I thought, I sought the mistress of the establishment and asked her a plain question.

"Oh, you're from Fort Michigan!" she said brightly, looking us over with eyes that quite obviously recalled the encounter between Julia and Sandra the day before. The eyes lingered on Julia. "Aren't you Colonel Pennant's daughter? I thought I'd seen that picture in the paper. Wasn't that a dreadful thing—the poor man and dead on that old baggage? And they say he was murdered? Though I must say, I don't see why it couldn't have been an accident. I always think it's dangerous to climb around on an old wreck like that—rotten timbers are always giving way. Did you know him?"

"Slightly," Julia admitted. "And you want to know about the gentleman whose car was stolen." She paused.

Russell

Russell, July 22.—On Wednesday, August 7, music students of Russell High school, are planning for an outing to be held at Chautauqua. This is not restricted to music students, but all are welcome. If a sufficient number of the motel choir attend they plan to make two recordings. They will enjoy a picnic supper and a concert in the evening by John Gurney of the Metropolitan Opera company, and the Chautauqua Symphony orchestra. Watch these columns for further details.

Hoss Laugh

That's a real horse laugh coming from old Man O' War's stable out at Lexington. . . . Only a few months ago they were comparing Bimelech to "Big Red" . . . And here's Bimelech already beaten by three oat runners who couldn't have run in the same league with Man O' War. . . . So forgive the old gent for a few hearty guffaws.

Old Man Stag

There may be others (we doubt it) but Mr. Amos Alonzo Stagg most likely is the man in athletics of whom it can be said "the sun never sets on his protégés." . . . When the old man visited Honolulu recently, two of the hundreds who called to pay their respects were former U. of Chicago athletes.

Western Pennsylvania's 4,000 Guardsmen In Excellent Shape For Army Maneuvers

Pittsburgh, July 23.—(P)—Western Pennsylvania's 4,000 National Guardsmen are "in better shape than ever" for their three-weeks duty at the first army maneuvers in northern New York next month, Brigadier General W. R. Dunlap said today.

"All of the units are well trained, most are up to maintenance strength and some have waiting lists," said the commander of the 53rd field artillery brigade.

"Of course," he added, "we're still shy some motor equipment, anti-tank guns and some of the newer equipment, but the 100th infantry, a southwestern Pennsylvania unit, already has been virtually completely equipped with the new Grand automatic rifles, one of the first in Pennsylvania to receive the guns."

Most of the guardsmen will head for the New York maneuvers—centering around Watertown, Plattsburg and Ogdensburg—on August 4. The 107th field artillery of 75 millimeter guns, the 176th field artillery of 155 millimeter howitzers, the 53rd field artillery brigade headquarters, the 28th signal company and the 101st radio intelligence company, all of the Pittsburgh district, will travel by trucks and automobiles.

The 110th infantry, from southwestern Pennsylvania, the 112th infantry, of northwestern Pennsylvania, the 55th infantry brigade headquarters at Washington, units of the 103rd medical regiment and of the 103rd cavalry will travel by train.

En route, the artillery regiments will stop for five days' practice firing at Indiantown Gap or Tobyhanna reservation in the Poconos.

The infantry will proceed direct to New York for a week's training in small unit maneuvers before the actual maneuvers begin August 12.

NO CHANGE IN W. P. A. QUOTA DURING AUGUST

Harrisburg, July 23.—(P)—State Administrator Philip Mathews said today he is "not anticipating any change" in Pennsylvania's quota of 155,000 WPA workers during August. Approximately 148,000 now are employed.

Mathews pointed out the state rolls dropped 4,000 workers when all federal agency projects shut down June 31 the close of the federal fiscal year. Those projects, such as work at military reservations, air depots, naval stations, and various studies for federal departments, remained dormant for several weeks while new allocations were being made.

Mathews said "we had gained 2,180 of those employees back, July 17, and hope to have 2,000 more by Wednesday."

Quito, capital of Ecuador, was once the most important art center in America and its churches still contain the works of immortal sculptors and painters.
